

2011 HARNES RACING HALL OF FAME BROODMARE INDUCTEE

ARTISTIC VISION

p,4,1:50.2 ($634,808)

(Artsplace – Armbro Ophelia – Cam Fella)

Sired by 1992 Horse of the Year Artsplace and bred by Armstrong Brothers in Inglewood, Ontario, pacer Artistic Vision was foaled on March 27, 1998.

In 2002, Artistic Vision became the first mare to win the finals of the White Ruffles, Night Styles and Jersey Girls series in the same year. Her biggest victory was her 2003 sweep of the Overbid Series at the Meadowlands. Artistic Vision's lifetime record was 92-34-13-7.

The progeny that qualified Artistic Vision for the Hall of Fame are 2010 Little Brown Jug, Breeders Crown and Messenger Stakes winner and Horse of the Year Rock N Roll Heaven p,3,1:47.3 ($2,748,818), and Clear Vision p,3,1:49.3f ($689,075), who finished on the board in the 2009 Messenger Stakes, Cane Pace and Tattersall's Pace. To date, with only two foals of racing age, Artistic Vision's total foal earnings are $3,437,893.

Artistic Vision performs her broodmare duties at Hunterton Farm at Stoner Creek, Paris, Kentucky, and is owned by Charles "Cotton" Nash, his wife Julie and his sister Francene.
